NEWSLETTER OF THE LYON PARK CITIZENS ASSOCIATION

March 2026

President's Message

By Natalie U. Roy

Happy almost Spring! Between a challenging "Snowcrete" storm, and frigid temperatures, it has been an unusually cold and busy time. Much of LPCA's efforts during this trying time was fielding numerous calls and emails from residents, asking for snow removal assistance and forwarding critical information from the County on interruptions of basic services. How rewarding to see so many good Samaritans in our neighborhood stepping forward to help others remove snow from driveways and sidewalks. Within in minutes of posting that a neighbor was in need, someone would step forward to lend a hand. Thank you everyone for your generous giving spirit.

At our monthly LPCA February meeting, we had a robust discussion about the County's snow removal efforts, the good, the bad and the ugly. We also discussed what could have been done better in Lyon Park going forward. While it was an incredibly challenging storm, the endless lame excuses made by Arlington County Board members and staff for the sub-par snow plowing efforts was tiring. Despite what we saw with our own eyes, the County sent out numerous press releases touting their heroic efforts. The County workers who were out in the streets plowing in the middle of the night and fixing emergency water main breaks such as the one that occurred on Highland Street, deserve praise and our gratitude, but not county leaders. County officials even directed people to contact local civic associations to help with their snow removal, which was comical. While LPCA was actively helping on the local level, I do not recall our civic association getting a snow removal budget or equipment from the County. I was stunned to receive calls for help from folks who were told to contact LPCA by County staff. That was just a way to buy time until we had a big melt.

At our last LPCA monthly meeting, we had an in-depth discussion about what worked and what did not in Lyon Park. That debrief was important to seek ways to improve our handling of a difficult weather situation.

We discussed compiling a more updated and comprehensive list of companies and individuals offering snowplow assistance. We also discussed exploring the possibility of getting a generator for the Lyon Park Community Center, in case of power outages. Going forward, the County should take a page from our playbook and organize its own comprehensive and honest de-briefing on what worked and what did not. After all we have many weather events, not just snow related storms.

The Gateway tree situation, which was a slap in the face to Lyon Park, is still top of mind for many in the community. The County is counting on Lyon Park forgetting about the travesty that was removal of the Lyon Park Gateway tree, despite our community protests. We will not forget. We met with County Board Member Karantonis, and it is clear the heavy burden is on us, busy community members, to provide a detailed plan for what will replace the tree in that triangle. If you are interested in being a part of our newly formed Tree Committee, please send me a direct message at LPCApresidentnur@gmail.com. We would love for you to join us.

Thanks for everything you do to make Lyon Park such a special place to live. Looking forward this next month to our first ever Local Immigration Forum, organized by LPCA and the Ashton Heights Civic Association, the annual Chili Cook-off and a special IBIS classical music concert (musicians from NSO and the National Opera Orchestra from the Kennedy Center), coming up this month! LPCA's March monthly meeting will feature a presentation by County Real Estate tax assessors which should be a popular topic.

There is never a dull moment in Lyon Park. Looking forward to seeing many of you around the neighborhood and at upcoming events.

Walk for Peace Brings Lyon Park Neighbors Together

By Elizabeth Sheehy

On February 9, two weeks after the arrival of Snowcrete in the DMV, residents in Lyon Park gathered along Washington Boulevard to observe the Walk for Peace. Anticipating the monks' ambulatory arrival from Alexandria, Lyon Park and Ashton Heights residents shared survival stories from the recent storm and many held signs in support of peace. The 19 monks who left Fort Worth, TX on October 26, 2025 walked the 2300 miles to Washington DC, aiming to raise awareness of peace with the millions of people who followed their journey. This was an amazing opportunity to witness history in our backyard.

Venerable Bhikkhu Pannakara led the monks, who walked briskly in a single file, on rural roads and through urban centers, in sunny weather and through the recent snowstorms that buried the area. The cold was their biggest obstacle, forcing them at times to cover their bare feet and bare heads with warm shoes and wool caps. To get through the worst of it, they focused on their breathing. The monks believe that even in a world filled with conflict, peace can be achieved, and it begins with creating peace in the mind. "Mindfulness is the key to show people that peace is something that is possible and always begins from within," Pannakara shared.

Their message is an important – though difficult – one for those of us who run around, always keeping busy, proud of our multi-tasking skills. Phones and overloaded schedules pull us away from mindfulness. The monks advise that every morning when you wake up, you write down on a piece of paper "today is going to be my peaceful day." Don't touch your phone until you've finished your personal morning tasks, including making your bed. Throughout your day, try to think about what actions you can take to create peace in the mind.

Restaurant Vibes: Troy's Italian Kitchen

By Sophie Oberstein

Tucked away in a two-storefront shopping “center,” is a pizza place that not only serves some of the best pizza in the area, but that is also unique in several ways. You’ll notice right away the huge signs in the windows that proclaim that Troy’s Italian Kitchen offers both “Vegan & Gluten Free” menus. In fact, Neel Vaidya, who co-owns the place with his wife, Palak Patel, says that 65% of their business comes from their vegan menu (“The biggest vegan menu in the DMV!” boasts Neel). Other innovations include the specialty pizzas (more on that below) and the introduction of halal meats, starting with the pepperoni, which my 9-year old neighbor, Harrison, said was “very, very good; some of the best I’ve had, and I’ve had a lot of pepperoni in my life!”

Neel and Palak have owned Troy’s since 2019 in what was formerly the home of Z Pizza, and then Troy’s. They considered changing the name when they bought it, but “the former owner was Troy and the community knew that name,” so they kept it. Your classic, unassuming pizza place, Troy’s currently seats just six people, but plans to add more seating in the near future. Once that additional seating has been added, Neel, Palak, and their seven employees plan to host “Make your Own Pizza” kids’ parties and other community events. Most pizzas are ordered for delivery or pick-up.

While there is an extensive menu of specialty pizzas, we ordered a simple cheese pie (slices are about $5 each; might as well get a whole pie for around $16 (prices vary)). The dough and sauce is made fresh daily and the cheese is high quality. “We don’t skimp,” says Neel. And you can taste the quality ingredients in the pizza, which is thin crust, but not soggy. Says Harrison, “I enjoyed the pizza; it’s really good.”

Neel’s claim that “we’re unique because we have options for everyone” includes the specialty pizza menu, including their bestselling Vegan Elote Pizza—with fire-roasted corn, onions, poblanos, vegan chipotle mayo, and vegan parmesan cheese—and the very popular Chicken Tikka Masala Pizza, with creamy tikka masala sauce, grilled chicken, green peppers, and onions. The Big Dill Pizza was also suggested, with bacon, onions, pickles, and ranch drizzle. If none of these specialties appeals to you, you can always create your own pie.

Lyon Park’s own Paul Showalter happened to drop by while we were there. A regular patron, he said some of his favorites are the huge calzones and the Gourmet Salad with dried cranberries, walnut, feta, green apples and balsamic dressing. Troy’s also has salads, wings, calzones, sandwiches, pasta, and a refrigerator fully stocked with desserts. Truly a full Italian kitchen.

In addition to our cheese pizza, we had some pepperoni slices (quite large), garlic knots, and mozzarella sticks. The crispy mozzarella sticks got rave reviews. Harrison’s 7-year old brother, Brayden (pictured), says the “cheese can stretch far!” He and his mother gave them a “15 out of 5 stars.”

If you’re looking for a great slice of pizza in the neighborhood, and you haven’t yet discovered Troy’s, it’s well worth a visit.

Troy’s Italian Kitchen (2710 Washington Blvd): Hours of operation are 11:00 a.m.–9:00 p.m. Monday through Thursday; 11:00 a.m.–10:00 p.m. Friday and Saturday; Closed Sunday. Phone number is 703-528-2828. Order online at <https://www.troysitaliankitchen.com> (10% off online orders).

Another Successful Cupcake Sale!

The Lyon Park Womans Club did it again! Many of us look forward to the Valentine's Cupcake Sale all winter. To suggest that every delectable cupcake is made with LOVE is an understatement. With about 10 bakers and nearly 1,000 cupcakes, the Womans Club sold out early and made many Valentines in Lyon Park and Ashton Heights very happy—what a success! Combined with the cheese sales, they raised $2,500.

There were a number of new flavors this year, including Salted Caramel, Black Walnut, and Pineapple, Banana Smoothie baked by Shelya White, and the intriguing High Hat Chocolate Dipped cupcakes offered up by sisters Donna and Deb—delicious! Speaking of chocolate, at first glance there sure was a lot of chocolate on the list. But as it turned out, it was lovely: chocolate fudge, chocolate cream cheese, cherry chocolate chili (with a little bit of a kick), devils food chocolate with chocolate chips in the mix, the High Hats, the High Hat minis...lots of chocolate, but not boring!

It took lots of volunteers to make it all happen....bakers, organizers, cupcake guides (there were SO many choices!) and neighbors to purchase the treats. Lindy Love (so aptly named!) kept everyone on task and created the beautiful red-and-pink themed ambience in the Lyon Park Community House. A big THANK YOU to everyone who made it possible, especially Margaret Fibel who organized behind the scenes with who was baking what and how many, Elizabeth Wray and Jim Burke for managing the money, and EVERYONE who helped set and clean up. Can't wait till next year!

The Pets of Lyon Park

Meet Jasper and Jinx, two kittens adopted on Christmas Eve at 3 months old from the Animal Welfare League of Arlington (AWLA). These two beasts are brothers and were born in the tidewater area of Virginia. Thanks to AWLA's great success in caring for rescue animals, and for finding them homes (either foster or forever), the local center often takes animals rescued from other parts of the state. These are two lucky kittens. Black cats are notoriously the last to get adopted as some people think they are bad luck. The Sheehy family knows better! Jasper and Jinx are smart and affectionate, though they do blend into the shadows and are frequently underfoot—literally. And as one young neighbor commented (when taking care of the kittens while the family was away), “they may be little kitties but they do make big poops!”

Please consider donating to, or adopting from, AWLA. They are another example of a wonderful community asset.

Lyon Park Plant Sale is Gearing Up!

By Susan Bell

The melting snow is a much-needed reminder that Spring is not far off when it comes to gardening. To help you with early season garden planning, mark your calendars for this year's Lyon Park Plant Sale. The sale will be held on SATURDAY, APRIL 18, from 11:00 a.m.–2:00 p.m. in Lyon Park. Look for us under the tent, rain or shine!

The Plant Sale features favorite, primarily native plants, all donated from Lyon Park and Ashton Heights gardeners. We'll have plants that love sun, plants that love shade, houseplants, and more! Most plants will be $5.00.

Are you a green thumb when it comes to houseplants? If you have houseplants, please root clippings soon, and pot the rooted clippings in early April. Houseplants sell best when they are established and look healthy in a pot.

Deborah Barber will host Dig-Your-Own from Lyon Park's flourishing native plant gardens during the Plant Sale.

PLEASE plan to donate potted up—and labeled—plants to the sale, but don't share anything on the Arlington list of invasive plants (<https://arlingtonva.s3.amazonaws.com/wp-content/uploads/sites/13/2013/10/Invasive-Plant-List-2-19-15.pdf>). We can only be successful in raising funds for Community Center maintenance if we have plants to sell! Bring donations to the Park by 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, April 18.

QUESTIONS? Contact Susan Bell at sibell703@outlook.com.

Join us for a FREE CONCERT at the Community Center Celebrating Music by Women, Performed by Women!

By Elizabeth Sheehy

Please save the date for a community concert on Tuesday, March 24, at 7:30 p.m. The Lyon Park Community Center, with assistance from DC Musicians Local 161-710 and the Music Performance Trust Fund, commemorate Women's History Month with an evening of music by women, performed by women!

Neighborhood old timers will see some familiar faces, as principal players from the Kennedy Center Opera House Orchestra join our neighbor Susan Robinson performing music for flute, harp, and strings. The repertoire spans the years from 17th century composer Maddalena Sirmin, to the romantic Fanny Mendelssohn, and includes the works of three living composers: Stella Sung, Libby Larsen, and Lena Auerbach. The quintet enjoyed a thrilling tour to South Africa a few years ago, and are delighted to be reuniting for this event.

This concert is free and suitable for older, concert-ready kids. It will be about 90 minutes, including a short intermission, and a post concert Q and A and reception with the artists. Tickets will become available closer to the concert date, accessible through the link on the Upcoming Events page.

Join Us for a Community Potluck Passover Seder

By David Newman

On Wednesday, April 1, 2026, please join us at the Lyon Park Community Center for a fun and engaging community potluck Passover Seder from 6:00 pm to 9:00 pm. All residents of Lyon Park and Ashton Heights who want to take part in this meaningful and timeless Jewish tradition are warmly welcome. Please RSVP no later than March 27 to david.s.newman@hotmail.com and atsilbey@me.com and we'll aim to answer any questions you have and send you a sign-up sheet with suggestions on what you might bring to the table.

Each year, Jews celebrating Passover hold a special dinner, the Seder, where they re-tell, for themselves and their children, the story of the Jews' escape from slavery in Ancient Egypt. (Exodus 13:8). At our Seder, all participants together will share that story and reflect on how it remains relevant today, tasting and talking about the special Seder foods and singing traditional songs. At the Seder, we hope everyone will share stories of liberation, recognizing that all of us are on a journey and, even today, many people around the world still are struggling to be free.
